BENEFITS OF CORVUS HEALTH'S HOSPITAL & HEALTH SYSTEMS SERVICES

Clinics, hospitals, and health systems are very complex institutions. It takes a great deal of thought and coordination to deliver quality care in a timely, cost-effective manner. Corvus Health provides a variety of services to help clinics, hospitals, and health systems perform at their peak and maintain positive balance sheets.

TEAM AND WORKFLOW PLANNING:

Corvus Health works with our clients to design how to most cost-effectively provide consistent, high-quality care. This involves designing the clinical and non-clinical teams, mapping how patients will move through the facility, and who provides each services. Particular emphasis is placed on customer service, the customer experience, and the soft skills of health workers to provide patient-centered care. We ensure that high value, shortage professions have their productivity maximized and are retained.

OPERATIONAL PLANS AND HOSPITAL MANAGEMENT:

Corvus Health works with its clients to provide Standard Operational Plans and Standard Operational Procedures for all the facility's functions. We use Lean Six Sigma approaches to enable your teams to provide consistently high quality, cost-effective services. SOPs include infection control plans, operating theater scheduling and turnover plans, procurement and stocking plans, etc. We can also recruit experienced hospital managers for you.

QUALITY:

Corvus Health can help improve the quality of care and patient safety at your facility through introducing Balanced Quality Scorecards. We help identify quality challenges and risks and perform the design, training, and implementation of a Balance Scorecard Team Performance Management System for your medical and nursing teams and other teams.

MARKET ANALYSIS & NEEDS ANALYSIS:

Corvus Health can perform an analysis on the current market, what services are already available, the regulatory environment, and possible partners and growth opportunities. We can identify what services are needed in a country or city and the willingness and ability to pay for the services. These analyses will enable you to properly plan your services so that they are utilized and profitable as soon as possible.

CLINICAL PATHWAYS:

Clinical pathways (guidelines, maps) enable healthcare teams to provide consistent, high-quality care and have been proven in multiple studies to improve outcomes, decrease costs, and decrease lengths of stays and readmissions. They have the additional advantage of enabling nurses and other health workers to start the first stages of diagnoses and treatment based on the patient's symptoms before the physician can be contacted or can examine the patient. Corvus Health can develop clinical pathways for your facility's most common or high-risk diagnosis and ensure they are properly adapted to your particular population.
